

"What counts in life is not the mere fact that we have lived. It is what difference we have made to the lives of others that will determine the significance of the life we lead."

SOOTHE THE SOUL

Keith's love for music was a soothing balm for all our souls. It transcended mere notes and melodies, touching the very essence of our hearts. In his passion, we found harmony, in his rhythm, we found unity. Let the music he cherished remind us that even in life's symphony of ups and downs, there's a reassuring melody that guides us through. In the gentle hum of a favorite tune or the soul-stirring lyrics of a cherished song, we find solace.
